

Bonn is in the southernmost part of the Rhine-Ruhr region, Germany's largest metropolitan area, with over 11 million inhabitants.

Bonn is one of the oldest cities. From 1949 to 1990 Bonn is the capital city of West Germany and Bonn currently shares the status of Germany's seat of government with Berlin, with the President, the Chancellor and many government ministries maintaining substantial presences in Bonn.

Bonn

Bonn Minster

A Roman Catholic Church, one of the oldest churches in Germany, having been built between 11th and 13th century.

University of Bonn

It is a public research university founded in its present form in 1818 and it becomes a leading university in Germany now.

Kunstmuseum Bonn

It is an art museum founded in 1947. Temporary exhibitions and its collection are both exhibited in this museum. Here you can learn more about the local life in Rhenish Expressionism. And it is a part of Bonn's "Museum Mile".

